

Overview

Standard Arabic has an estimated 206 million speakers, while colloquial Arabic is spoken by a total of over 400 million, which makes it the fifth most widely spoken language in the world. Arabic classes at Tulane highlight the richness of Arabic culture and literature, as well as its practical applications in the global political economy.

Requirements

The Arabic minor consists of 5 courses for a minimum of 15 credits, distributed as follows:

Title	Credits
Intermediate Arabic	4
Advanced Arabic	3
Business Arabic	3
Media Arabic	3
Introduction to Arabic Literature	3
Arab Modern Culture	3
Arabic for International Relations and Diplomacy	3
	Intermediate Arabic Advanced Arabic Business Arabic Media Arabic Introduction to Arabic Literature Arab Modern Culture

If a student wishes to complete two or more minors, no courses counting toward the student's one minor will count toward the student's other minor(s). Courses taken abroad that the student wishes to count toward the Arabic minor will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis.