

LEGAL STUDIES IN BUSINESS MINOR

At the undergraduate level, Freeman offers a legal studies minor in business for students who are enrolled as Business majors. The legal studies minor gives a student a broad understanding of legal issues present in managerial decisions. The Freeman school limits BSM Students to two Business majors or to one Business major and one Business minor. Typically, a minor consists of three or four courses. If a student chooses to pursue a major and a minor within the Freeman School, the student cannot double count courses and must select how the courses will apply to each major/minor. BSM students must earn a grade point average of at least 2.0 in courses that count towards each major and minor.
