POLITICAL SCIENCE MAJOR

Students majoring in political science are challenged to think creatively and analytically about historically and currently relevant topics. Through participation in lectures, seminars, internships, and independent studies, our students develop critical reasoning, communication, data analysis, and reflective skills.

Many graduates go on to obtain advanced degrees in law, business, public policy, political science, and public administration. Others apply their degree to relevant career employment, pursuing work in political campaigns, lobbies, non-profit foundations, think tanks, corporations, public relations firms, news organizations, government, and international organizations.

Requirements

TO DECLARE A POLS, PSIR OR PSDV MAJOR: Pick up a major-declaration form from your academic advisor and bring it to the office of our Director of Undergraduate Studies, Prof. Brox (302 Norman Mayer), during his office hours: Wednesday 10-12 and 1-3. You will be assigned a major advisor at that point.

Please note, you cannot declare two political science majors. You must choose either POLS, PSIR or PSDV.

Statistics or Foreign Language Component

Choose one of the following:

- MATH 1110 Probability & Statistics I (or other equivalent course) ¹
- Select one additional course (3 credits) beyond the SLA foreign-language requirements

Electives

Select at least six electives in political science ²

1. Political Science (POLS) majors who are double majors in Sociology or Psychology may satisfy this requirement through the successful completion of SOCI 3030 Intro To Research Design (3 c.h.), PSYC 3090 Univariate I & Lab (4 c.h.). Equivalent courses from other departments or schools may also satisfy this requirement for any student majoring in Political Science, as determined by the Department Chair or Undergraduate Studies Director.

2. No more than four of these courses can be in any single subfield (POLA, POLC, POLI, or POLT).

Pre-requisites

For all major tracks (POLS, POLI, & PSDV), students must have successfully completed POLS 2010 Scope/Methods Poli Sci (3 c.h.) and the correlating introductory course in order to enroll in any course above the 3000-level. For example, students must complete POLA 2100 American Government (3 c.h.) in order to enroll in POLA 4000 or 6000-level courses. Faculty may choose to add other pre-requisites to any course and are encouraged to do so in any case in which they feel that doing so would improve student preparation for and performance in their own courses. Non-major juniors and seniors may enroll in courses at the 4000-level or above with the consent of the instructor. The Political Science department enforces all pre-requisites. Students must have successfully completed a prerequisite the semester before registering for any class. The department reserves the right to drop students who are missing the pre-requisite from the course without notice.

Level of Coursework

- Students must successfully complete at least two courses at the 4000 level or above. This does not include internships, independent studies, or honors thesis credits.
- Students must successfully complete either one course at the 6000 level or one 4-credit writing intensive course in political science. Honors thesis credits do not count as political science writing courses.
- Students may not exceed six credits of internship toward their total hours of graduation and can count only one internship course (POLS 4560 Internship (1,3 c.h.)) toward the major requirements.
